Guardian Automotive:
Single focus on Automotive Replacement Glass and strong commitment to Baltic region

Bertrange, Luxembourg, March 22, 2017 – Following last year’s announcement that Guardian Automotive is to focus exclusively on the development, manufacture and supply of Automotive Replacement Glass, the company has introduced a number of initiatives to get closer to customers in Estonia, Lithuania and Latvia as well as the rest of Europe. These include product development and a new online ordering system, the state-of-the-art Guardian Automotive eShop, which boasts a number of time-saving and customer-friendly features, fully in line with other world-class digital enterprises. Other benefits include 24/7 access to the company’s full product range and ease of use.

Combining the company’s dedicated European manufacturing facilities and state-of-the-art warehousing and distribution services, Guardian Automotive, part of Guardian Glass, a major business unit of Guardian Industries Corp., offers a full range of premium quality Automotive Replacement Glass which is of OEM-like quality and meets all the required standards. Building on more than 85 years of automotive industry experience, the company has outlined its strategy to focus exclusively on the development, manufacture and supply of Automotive Replacement Glass. With an already extensive portfolio, the company currently introduces more than 1 new product every day – and products can be ordered online via the Guardian Automotive eShop.

Customers in the Baltic region are supported by a team of dedicated customer service representatives, headed by Levente Sandor, Market and Key Account Manager, who says: “Currently we are the only manufacturer focusing exclusively on Automotive Replacement Glass. And we are here to create long-term value for our customers. We are delighted to be able to offer our customers in the region a credible alternative, with high quality products, outstanding customer service and unmatched flexibility. We are applying the latest technologies to meet our customers’ expectations and our key focus is providing outstanding customer service.”
